1. Read Psalm 139:1-10, Jeremiah 23:24 and Acts 17:27-28. What common denominator of truth can you find in these three passages?

2. Which of the four different "places" listed on the outline best describes the challenges you are facing right now? What difference does the presence of God in that place make?

3. What are some practical things we can do to see through the optical illusion that "God is nowhere" to the reality that "God is now here"?

4. Who do you know that needs to be encouraged or challenged with the truth that God is with them in the situation that are facing? How can you best share it with them?

5. What questions do you still have about God's omnipresence?
